A question of orientation

Homosexual support group hopes to help break down stereotypes

"I'm not here to threaten anyone. I'm here just to help those who need it. I'm not here to hurt anyone. I'm here just to help those who need it."

—Caroline

"We're not here to threaten anyone. We just feel that we have a right to be here, too."

—Joseph

"People have an idea that lesbians are jocks, but I'm in a sorority and I wear dresses."

—Jennifer

"People need to realize that there are a lot more of us than they think."

—Caroline

"I don't think I'm the normalpicture of what people imagine a lesbian is."

—Jennifer

"We're not here to threaten anyone. We just feel that we have a right to be here, too."

—Caroline

"The main thing I would like people to learn about is that we're people they see every day. We're their fraternity brothers, their teammates and their classmates."

—Joseph
